HOLSCHER TAKES THE CUP.

WASHINGTONIANS CALL HIM A CINCH FOR THE MAXIMUM STAKES TOMORROW.

Bright Boy Is Again Disqualified-Miller Fails to Ride a Winner-Three Purses for J. W. Colt-Notter the Day's Star.

Washington, D. C., November 29 .- Holscher came right back after his Dixie triumph yesterday to beat a better opposition for the Washington Cup at two miles and a quarter at Bennings today. Banker was the favorite, while Holscher went back from 7 to 5 to 2 to 1. Holscher waited on the others for one mile and three-quarters then moved up. He always held Banker safe in the run through the Holscher was sore when he came on the track but warmed out of it. He will start again in the Maximum at three miles Saturday.

The weather was clear, though quite cold and one of the largest crowds ever seen at the course was in attendance. The crowd was disappointed sadly in the respect that Miller, who invariably attracts the following of the holiday race-goers did not ride a winner. His mounts were heavily backed, but at no time did he look like winning a race.

was another disqualification today. Bright Boy, which finished first in the fifth race being setback for interfering with Orphan Lad. The horses made the turn for home head and head when Bright Boy bolted and carried Orphan Lad to the outside fence. Bright Boy then swerved back to the inner rail and came on to win by a length and a half. Johnson's claim of foul was justly allowed.

owned the first Brooklyn Samuel Emery, Handicap winner, Dry Monopole, made his re-entry to racing this season after having been in retire ment for a number of years and he has received little encouragement. Bright Boy, his only horse race so far, has finished in the money twice and each time has been disqualified.

It was a banner day for James W. Colt. Horses wearing his green and white jacket won three races. He won both steeplechases and the opening race on the flat. It was a fight for the honors in all three. Pioneer ran a remarkable race in the selling steepe chase, as he was outrun and outjumped at all stages coming onto the flat last but one of the field and many lengths behind the leaders, but Huppe never let up on him and he won by a length and a half.

A number of horses were sold in the paddock be fore the race. Lord of the Vale brought top price, going to F. W. Healey for $1,900. C. C. Smithson paid $1,800 for El Dorado and A. J. Joyner got Donna Elvira for $675. Small prices ruled for others

Three favorites won and Notter rode three winners

BETTING METHODS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES. England Frowns on Street Betting-France Takes Tax from All Wagers Made at Courses.

Every country in which horse racing is carried on has adopted some form of legislation for controfting race course betting. Outside of America the great horse racing countries of the world are England, France, the Australian Commonwealth, and the Argentine Republic. Since the opening of the meeting a good deal has been heard of the English system of betting. In that country there are many ways of wagering on horse races, and although the law against gambling is strictly enforced away from the track, considerable lati tude is allowed on race courses. There the bookmaker bets for cash with those clients whom does not know or knows too well, issuing a ticket in precisely the same manner as is done on western The bulk of the betting transacted in "Tattersall's ring" as the betting enclosure in the grandstand on English courses is termed, is done on credit, in the Leger stand, or "silver as it is colloquially called, which answers ring," to the American "field," it is almost entirely conducted on a cash basis. Every bookmaker in "Tattersall's ring" nearly every racing man of any prominence belongs to one or other of the big betting clubs in London or the Manchester subscription rooms, an institu tin of similar nature. The principal London betting club is the Victoria, in Wellington street, just off that famous thoroughfare, the Strand. At these clubs the betting on future events, which is not indulged in nowadays to the extent it was in vogue some years ago, is carried on, do duty as turf clearing houses. The settlement of accounts between the bookmakers and their clients the previous week's racing takes place at these clubs every Monday morning. In the ring at New market there is no walking about by the book makers. The principal operators, the "big men" termed, range themselves along the rail which divides the betting ring from the enclosure so that the bookmaker can thus bet "over the rails" to members and to the general public in the grandstand. The others take up positions in different parts of the ring. It is not customary for the bookmakers in the big ring to attire them selves in any outre or eye-catching fashion though this practice is done to some extent in the Leger stand and still more so by the layers in the field.

The relations between bookmaker and backer being based on credit, an introduction is necessary before business can be transacted by a stranger, of the layers to do all the business they can this is not difficult to obtain, and is not infrequently abused. When the late R. H. Fry. "the leviathan" bookmaker, died in England he was supposed to have been a millionaire, but his will was sworn to only $200,000. Fry owned something like $2,000,000 at the time of his death, and many amusing stories are told of the difficulty he sometimes experienced in remembering the names of some individual who came up and proffered to pay off a debt contracted years previously. The English bookmaker has to allow for a considerable percentage of bad debts

The "starting price" or track odds system of betting on horses is one which is very popular in England. This is based entirely on credit, references bookmakers and client and being exchanged by settlement is effected by check every Monday. The law forbids the acceptance of cash and to evade several large bookmaking firms have their headquarters in Flushing, Holland, where they car receive letters enclosing money on the morning of the race day, that are posted over night in England They had their offices at Boulogne, in France, until the French authorities forced them to leave the country. At the present time there is a bill before the English parliament termed the street betting bill, the object of which is to more effectually suppress the handbook men, or their agents, who collect small sums from workmen and others. These agents make it their business to frequent the neighborhood of factories at lunch hour and do consider able business in the aggregate.

The legitimate credit system of backing hors at the starting price is conducted by wire and the bear the official time mark an telegraph must hour, and a half hour, or any time prior to the scheduled starting time of the race according to conditions laid down by the bookmaker with which his client is acquainted. The size of the commission to be placed is generally a factor in this respect. A large sum can be placed in different of England simultaneously at starting price and the greater part of the money won by John A Drake when his Royal Flush won the Stewards Cup was got on in this way.

In France the bookmaker cannot accept cash and settlement is effected on all wagers made during the day after the last race, except those made by well-known commissioners and big bettors which are generally settled at the track on Sunday, prior to starting a fresh week's racing, or at the Salon des Courses, the Paris betting club. Thus one day's credit is all that the ordinary bettor can obtain in France, where the mutual system is officially sanctioned by the government. The mutuals are a source of great revenue to the French racing clubs, who, however, receive only 2 per cent. out the 7 per cent. commission deducted from winning through the machine. The other 5 per cent. is divided into four portions of one and a quarter each, one to the charities, who are thus largely benefited, one to the Society for the encouragement of breeding horses, one for rent to the municipality of Paris, Longchamps and Autueil courses being part of the park, Bois de Boulogne, and the remaining faction covers the expense, cleri cal staff, etc., of running the machine. The mutual system is practically the only form of wagering horse races that obtains throughout continental

Of the six states which form the Australian com nonwealth three of the minor ones, Queensland, Western Australia and Tasmania allow bookmaking for cash or credit, but the mutual machine, called there "the totalisator," is the principal betting nedium for the general public. In South Australia oookmaking is prohibited by law and the machine only is allowed. In the two principal states, New South Wales and Victoria, bookmakers ply their ocation in the English fashion for cash or credit inder the elm tree in a paddock between the grandstand and the saddling paddock. Betting is strictly prohibited in grandstand or on lawn in front of it

The Australian law expressly forbids establishing any "place" for the purpose of gambling, and con sequently the bookmaker cannot fix any location so much as sticking his umbrella or cane in the turf. It was on one occasion held that a book was violating the statute by wearing ab normally high-heeled shoes, which raised him head and shoulders above the crowd. The club detective invited him to return to earth. In Melbourne, the capital city of Victoria, where the famous Melbourne Cup is run early in November. there is a very handsome building in the principal street occupied by the Victoria Betting Club, to which the majority of bookmakers and a large numer of the race-going public belong. Betting on luture events is carried on there members and settlement of accounts is made every At one time the credit system prevailed Monday. ill over Australia, till cash betting was introduced in that country by R. S. Siever, the one-time owner famous mare Sceptre, who is now editor of an English sporting weekly called "The Winning Post." Siever made book in Australia under the Victoria Racing Club, which governs the conduct of racing throughout the state, licenses the bookmakers, charging a fee of $250 per annum and the words "Licensed by V. R. C." on their on their is a guarantee to bettors of responsibility; about two hundred bookmakers are licensed by the V. R. C. The plan of compelling hem to wear a badge on the arm, something like an American policeman's shield, was once suggested, but the idea was resented by the bookmakers and he matter dropped.

In Sydney, the capital city of New South Wales the Australian Jockey Club adopts the same policy of licensing bookmakers. In both states the laws prohibiting gambling on horse racing away from though through stress of competition and the desire the track are very stringent, and quite recently fresh enactment which was made in this connec tion by the parliament of New South Wales, was instigated by the A. J. C. and met with the approval of all classes, including the clergy. As in England, the sentiment throughout Australia is in favor of making a decided distinction between wagering on the race course and gambling away The Victoria Racing Club has a memb ship of nearly four thousand, who pay a yearly subscription of $25 each, and is independent of any income from betting. The Australian Jockey similarly constituted.

In the Argentines on all three of the race courses in Buenos Ayres the mutual machine, "El Sport," as it is termed, is the sole medium for betting on the races. Bookmakers are unknown and when a good many years ago a few English ones went to Buenos Ayres the Argentine stewards placed them in wire enclosures closely approaching

In New Zealand, the most paternally governed ountry in the world, and where the mighty Carbine was bred, the bookmaker is as extinct as the dodo but the speculative public can get all the excitement it wants on the numerous race courses in that country through the "totalisator." Jail awaits the man who makes a book in New Zealand.

OARSMAN WINS THE JONATHAN HANDICAP. Los Angeles Meeting Opens with Threatening Weather, but Big Crowd Sees Good Sport.

Los Angeles, Cal., November 29. -Racing at As Park opened with flattering prospects, despite the threatening and comparatively cool weather. crowd of about 6,000 was present and enjoyed good day's sport. The booking, as in previous years, was presided over by George Rose, who set the prices for the ring, fifteen other layers drawing in for two days. The betting, though not heavy was brisk, the public having much the better of the day's play. Among the pencilers that drew in were Benny Falk, Roy Offut, H. L. Jones, Sam Shoen, Jack Adkins and "Frisco" McManus.

Much interest centered in the feature event, the onathan Handicap, which was won in spectacular fashion by Louis Kempner's Oarsman, "enerously supported by the public. It appeared up to the final quarter as if Arimo was going to make a runaway race of it, but the youngster tired when a sixteenth out and succumbed to Oarsman in the closing strides amid deafening shouts from the spectators. The owner of the winner, as has been the custom in former years, was presented with a floral horseshoe

Secretary Boden was congratulated on his opening effort, although he is somewhat handicapped by the mediocre class of horses here. Many stables are expected in the next few weeks, now that it is almost a certainty that the meeting will be run off as scheduled. Among those expected to have here in a short time are: W. J. Speirs, Lafe Block, R. Angarola, Billy Keating, Jerry Maey, General Townes and Jim Boden.

Judge Hamilton officiated in the stand. He was assisted by Ed Cole as associate and clerk of the scales P. P. Pomeroy.

The pool boys wore caps and were taxed $20 day each to do business, eleven drawing in.

ANOTHER RACETRACK IN LOUISIANA.

Orleans, La., November 29 .- There is going the rounds that another racetrack is to be built in these parts. The plant, according will be located on the east bank of the Mississippi, opposite New Orleans, and near Gretna in Jefferson Parish. A sixty-day meeting is aid to be in contemplation and both the governing bodies in the west are to be petitioned for dates. The names of the persons who are behind the proposition have not been disclosed.

JOCKEY M'LAUGHLIN IS NOT WANTED.

New Orleans, La., November 29 .- Presiding Judge Frank J. Bryan this morning gave orders to the police in charge of the Fair Grounds to deny admission to jockey McLaughlin. During the Toronto eeting last fall McLaughlin got into trouble and Judge Francis Trevelyan, who acted there as the steward, made recommendation to the American Turf Association to revoke the rider's license.

FEE FOR ADAM'S SERVICES $1,000.

Stud fees are surely going up in America. fee for the service of F. C. Bishop's $60,000 Frenchman, Adam, by Flying Fox—Amie, is anunced to be $1,000. And the service of a son of Adam's sire's sire can be had hereabouts for a tenth part of that amount and few people will be disposed to assert that Orme Shore's dam, Vir-Shore, is in any way inferior in breeding to Adam's dam Amie .- Toronto Sunday World.

LOWE'S LINE ON LURETTA IS BAD

"Luretta has won many a race for me, but I have been very unlucky in betting on her,' said John Lowe at Bennings Tuesday. "Today I bet $10 and once or twice before I have bet a like amount, but her other winning races, and there are more than a dozen of them, have been without profit aside from the purse, while I have bet as much as $1,000 on her when she has been beaten."

BRIGHTWOOD MEETING IS NOT SANCTIONED. Washington, D. C., November 29 .- Horsemen and riders at Bennings have been notified that if they take part in the meeting at Brightwood, advertised for next week, they will do so at their own risk, as the meeting is not sanctioned by the Jockey Club. Brightwood is just outside of Washington and a six-day meeting had been planned.

NOSE FINISHES THE ORDER.

EXCELLENT SPORT WITH PROFIT TO THE PUBLIC AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Juggler Wins the Thanksgiving Handicap-Belmere Falls Lame-James Hennessy's Riding Brings Him Cheers-Five Favorites Win.

New Orleans, La., November 29.-No better conests have been in evidence, even at the hig tracks turing the summer months, than those which were vitnessed at the Fair Grounds this afternoon. Close inishes were the order in nearly all the races, the tightest fit being in the Thanksgiving Handicap. luggler, coupled in the betting with Belmere as the Burlew & O'Neill entry, proved the winner after one of the most spectacular contests ever witnessed here, St. Valentine being the dangerous challenger luring the hard drive that came in the final furlong of the race. James Hennessy, who was Juggler's silot, never rode a better race. He got to the inish a nose in the van of his company and the arge crowd that witnessed the struggle paid the nidget rider due homage on his return to the stand. delmere, which was considered Fred Burlew's eliance for the prize of $1,970, fell lame after three-quarters of a mile in a contending position and Nicol eased him up throughout the The disappointment of the race was the howing of Athlete, on which owner Tucker wagered

In addition to riding the winner of the feature ace, Hennessy scored victories on Glamor and Lady Henrietta. On the latter he was again called upon o ride his hardest to outflnish Nicol on La Sorciere. The victory of J. W. O'Neill was also sensational n a long way back to get up in the last stride to beat out Quinn Brady. from the sensational finishes, the day was noteworthy for the fact that five favorites were returned winners and the spectators profited handsomely, not a layer escaping a loss afternoon's transactions.

Among those who reached the city today were Edward Corrigan, George C. Bennett, and Fred Gerhardy. The latter will be employed in an official capacity at City Park.

comprising the string of E. R. Twelve horses Bradley arrived this morning and are quartered at the Ctiy Park track.

Z. G. Stebbins got in this morning from Mexico He will remain here until the latter part of January, when he will leave for Hot Springs to get things in shape for the meeting to be held at Oaklawn Park some time during February Fred Cook left today for a brief visit to Chicago.

BORGHESI WINS THE FEATURE AT OAKLAND.

Tremendous Throng at Course-Transportation Facilities Prove Inadequate-New Book on Handicap.

Oakland, Cal., November 29 .- The Thanksgiving Handicap at a mile and a furlong was won in runaway style by Borghesi, Rudolph Spreckels' recent $15,000 acquisition, which was second choice in the betting. William Randall had the big Brutus-Ledette horse trained to the hour and the stable commission is said to have been a heavy one. Proper, for the third successive running of this stake, came out of it a big favorite, the Jennings horse put up a remarkable but unavailing race against a better horse. A peculiar angle to the betting developed after the announcement was made that Blue Eyes, posted as a starter, was withdrawn and twenty minutes allowed for a new book, was that the wise betting which had been confined to Corrigan and Ramus in the first book veered around completely and centered on Proper and Borghesi.

Shot Gun's defeat by Cruzados in the race at five furlongs was a hard blow to the plungers who had banked on his record in mud for a little sure money. The start which favored the Baldwin horse, was responsible for the result

Thirty-six books, including the field books, were barely able to handle today's business at the track. It is estimated that the attendance was greater by 5,000 than on any previous occasion in the past history of the California Jockey Club. The congestion was so great that many were apprehensive of a panic. It was next to impossible to move around and thousands of intending bettors were unable to place their wagers. The transportation fa-cilities were inadequate to handle the crowd and fully 5,000 persons walked all the way to the track.

The grandstand will be enlarged to twice present capacity next season and also moved back a hundred feet in order to afford more lawn space J. Ranch was a visitor at the track. He said that he had signed a contract just before he left Paris to ride next year for Jean Pratt, the chief steward of the French Jockey Club.

The mare Blue Eyes was not at the track, otherwise the stewards would have forced P. Sheridan to start her in the handicap. The owner had simply forgotten to scratch her and will probably be fined heavily for such a serious oversight.

Jack Martin has been engaged by Sam Hildreth to do his local riding and is already on his way ere. Tommy Clark is the most recent addition to the jockey colony at Oakland.

ACCOUNTANT WINS MORE THAN SPEARMINT.

Comparison of American and English Racing Statistics as Made by a Canadian Critic.

"Statistics to hand of the English racing season show that in Accountant the United States has the largest money-winner of the year," says a Canadian "Accountant's aggregate in nine victories is $$4 120 as against Spearmint's $75,000. including his Grand Prix win. Leaving the French race out Lord Derby's Oaks winner, Keystone II., heads the list in England with $65,000. The credit of winning over $50,000 is also held by three other runners-Troutbeck, Bridge of Candy (another Lord Derby's), and Dinneford. It is rather remarkable that Keystone II. and Dinneford won only three races apiece, but the latter captured the Princess of Wales Stakes, the most valuable turf event but one of the entire season. Another big winner, Llangibby, has only one victory to his credit, but that was the Eclipse Stakes, the richest prize of the year, worth $46,425.

The eight leading English sires of 1906 are Ladas and Persimmon, the produce of each having won nearly $100,000; Carbine, $75,000; Gallinule. $72,000; Ayrshire, $70,000; Love Wisely, $68,000; Isinglass, $65,000 and Marco $65,000. There are fourteen sires in the list, with over $40,000 to their credit, and nearly a dozen others close to that

"These figures indicate that there has been more equality among the leading sires during 1906 than for many years previously. Last season Gallinule, Isinglass, St. Frusquin and Cyllene stood ahead of the figures of Ladas and Persimmon this year, a corresponding decrease in the winnings of those that followed.

"In the United States ten of the leading sires are credited with over $60,000 each, and the produce of nineteen are credited with over $40,000. Meddler, the leading American sire, runs quite a bit ahead of the English leaders, Ladas, sire of Mr. Seagram's stallion Cricklade, and Persimmon, sire of the same gentleman's Pershore. Meddler's produce have won nearly $150,000. Next to Go Between's sire comes Voter—which, on a memorable occasion, succumbed to Mr. Seagram's Coburg—with over $94,000; Filigrane follows with $89,590; Hamburg with $81,400 Watercress with $78,130; Hastings with $72,025; Or nament with $68,990; Ben Strome with $67,295; Bel-videre with $61,095 and Woolsthorpe with $61,025. As usual, the imported stallions in the states have rather the best of the home-bred ones."

FRENCH BREEDING SYNDICATE.

"The French breeders have formed a kind of Mutual Aid Syndicate, the members of which have undertaken to give the services of their stallions free to their fellow members," writes the French ondent of the London Sporting Life. this interchange of 'courtesies' breeders' expenses will be greatly reduced. Looking at matters all round, breeders in France are in a much better position than their brethren in England, for not only are fees lower here than on the continental side of the Channel, but there is also a better market for thoroughbred stock .. The government stallions are available for approved mares at a fee of less than $25, including the groom, and now there will be about sixty stallions for which nothing will be charged at all to members of the 'Syndicate des Eleveurs de Chevaux de pur sang en France.' These stallions are by no means second classers. For instance, M. Edmond Blanc has put in Flying Fox, M. Michel Ephrussi Brio (by Galopin out of Briar Root), M. Camille Blanc Le Hardy (the sire of Terburg) and Retz (the French Derby winner of 1902); M. F. de Saint-Jayone Amer Picon, a wonderful stayer; the Comte Le Marois, Chalet, the sire of Maximum and of Monsieur Perichon; M. Maurice Ephrussi, Codoman, a horse well known in England, that ran second to Berrill for the Cambridgeshire in 1990, and afterwards won the Prix du Conseil Municipal in Paris; M. A. Abeille, Champaubert; M. E. Veil-Picard, Childwick (who, though growing, in years, still gets good winners); M. de Alary, Delaunay, another English importation; the Comte H. de Pourtales, Dolma Baghtche (a Grand Prix winner of 1894); Comte Lair, Earwig; Baron de Rothschild, Le Roi Soleil: Baron E. de Rothschild, Eryx; M. J. de Bremond, Gardefeu; M. A. Pierron, Rising Glass; Vicomte d'Harcourt, Maximum and Gulliver; Comte de Lastours, Le Var; M. Marcel Henry-Lepaute, Lorlot; the Comtesse P. Le Marois, Pastisson (the Australian horse that has sired some good two-year-olds); the Duc de Noailles, Ravens-bury, and the Comte de Nicolay, Rabelais and Velas quez (by Fricandeau, who must not be confounded with the English Velasquez). It will be seen what a great advantage this 'pooling' of stallions will give the French breeders, who will be able to select the most suitable stallions for their mares without any cost whatever.'

HOW DICK DWYER MISSED A GOOD HORSE.

Says Dwyer: "I had word from a good source that Electioneer was a great colt and told Mr. Hendrie to go east and buy him. Hendrie forgot the commission. commenting on the colt's future career said: "I am like the green jockey whose Dwyer said: horse was forever breaking. Went to post at 1:45. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won in a canter; second driving; third the same. Ocean Shore far outclassed the others, forged quickly into the lead and, increasing his advantage as the race progressed, won pulling up. Plausible was shuffled back and messed about in the first quarter and closed up gradually into a fast going second. Triumphant showed superior early speed, but tired at the end and was short. Ingham got away poorly and steadily improved his position, is promising and also was short. Johnny Lyons finished well and likes mud evidently. Arcourt is palpably unfit. Palemon ran well to the stretch and quit badly.

Bill Curtis is fresh and good, displayed much the most speed throughout and finished tring, but gamely.

J. F. Donohue ran on the outside all the way, but moved up steadily throughout and finished resolutely under the whip. Pacifico ran well to the stretch, but tired badly in the last eighth. Reservation was ander keen urging all of the last quarter and the race should improve him. I Told You raced prominently to the final quarter. Oratorian was never rpominent and can do much better.

El Cazador forced a sharp pace until rounding the far turn, then shook off Budapest at the flual eighth post, but had to be driven to the limit in the closing strides to offset Nappa's challenge. The latter stood the last eighth drive gamely and finished fast. Budapest showed the most early speed, but tired paipably when an eighth out. THE JOCKEY CLUB.

The law in New York state forbids racing after November 15 and before April 15. The rules of the Jockey Club are in keeping with the law. Therefore no scale of weights for December, January and February are provided. The first month covered in the Jockey Club's scale is March, this is due to the fact that the Washington Jockey Club begins the season at Bennings in that month.
